Good food...

...at the heart of every successful meeting

At Holiday Inn we know what an important contribution food makes to the success of your meeting. That's why we've been making radical improvements to our food offering. The result is a completely new food philosophy. We call it Simply Uplifting and it's streets ahead of the competition.

Make your next meeting simply uplifting

Our new menus are designed to whet your appetite, are easy to eat at meetings and will keep you bright and alert throughout the day.

No more menu fatigue

You'll never be bored with our new menus. They offer a wide variety of well-balanced delicious dishes that cater to all diets and tastes with plenty of healthy options. They also offer a range of treats that lift the spirits and help keep you focused through the working day.

The food you really want

Our new working lunch menus include sandwiches and wraps, hot dishes, salads and desserts. And because we believe our food should look as good as it tastes, we make sure all our dishes are tastefully presented.

If you prefer to dine in the restaurant you'll find an equally delicious menu just as good at boosting your energy levels. Just speak to your meetings representative about the options available to you.

Your meeting, your way

There's more to Holiday Inn meetings than great new menu choices. From our efficient booking service to delegate facilities, personal touches and attention to detail we do everything we can to make your meeting a success.

Make sure you book your next meeting at Holiday Inn. You'll find that our good food is at the heart of your successful meetings.
